"DvDrum" is a Side-scrolling Beat'em Up Platform Game. It is available on Google Play. This is the Sound Pack version. Please check with the original game for "DvDrum" rules and controls. How do I apply the Hi Hat packs? To use the Hi-Hat Packs, the user must download and install the Sound Packs into the device in which they will be using. The packs must be uninstalled before the HD re-installation. Otherwise, the sound packs will not be available. What about all the Sound Packs, if they will not be available after I uninstall the original Sounds? The following packs are the Sound Packs: Reggae, Hip-Hop, Lo-Fi, Techno, Hip-Hop, House, Techno House, Electronic & Modern Pop. The packs will not be available after I uninstall the original Sounds. I'm not sure. All I can tell you is that the answer is "no." That's all I know. The sound packs are pre loaded in the app but sounds are not included. So, the only way to use the packs is when you upload other sounds to them then unzip them and replace your new sounds with the new versions. This is a nice pack. And, the design is very clean and simple. Would you by any chance be willing to help improve some of the sounds themselves to make the pack more balanced? You have a wide variety of sound packs in your list. Would you by chance be willing to look through a few of them and try to give some feedback as to how they could be improved? You have a great variety of sounds that you chose and I think you do a great job with what you have. Kinda off-topic but the other night I saw a commercial for an app where the company did a burst of hi hats and I was wondering if you guys could tell me what type of software it was? I mean of course the app was called "DvDrum" for "DvDrum" the sound engine that's on it. I don't think the commercial aired on a major network. Probably on some local one. Holy CRAP, there's some great sounds in here! This is a fantastic sound pack, and I really wish I could just leave my HD alone and enjoy these instead
