Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a display device and a method for driving a display device, and particularly to a display device and a driving method that can reduce a display error in a display, which is caused by a temperature variation, in which the display device is composed of a temperature compensating circuit and a driving circuit. 2. Description of the Related Art In recent years, displays such as a liquid crystal display device and a CRT (Cathode Ray Tube) have been widely used as display devices for personal computers and a television receiver. It is known that there exists a temperature change or a change in an ambient temperature in a manufacturing process of the display device, or a temperature variation after manufacturing. If such a temperature change or variation is generated, an output characteristic of the display device is changed, and a display image may be distorted.

Therefore, the temperature of the display device has to be set to a specific value before shipment from the factory. At the time of shipping, the temperature of the display device has to be measured, and a temperature setting value has to be determined based on the measured temperature.

Therefore, the temperature setting value of the display device after shipping has to be set for each display device. In the case of a liquid crystal display device, a change in the temperature after shipment from the factory, that is, the temperature variation Sorry for the No Feedback - because I'm a newbie ;) At the moment, I have an (even good) vector of the attributes of each post, but I don't know how to use it. My goal is to sort my posts by the following attribute: Number of Â´commentsÂ´ Number of Â´votesÂ´ Basically, I just need some help in the "how to use the vector of attributes" part. I have seen some examples, but they only show how to use it to create a new (and empty) vector. Here is what I have done so far:

library(plyr) library(dplyr) library(tidyr) library(tibble) library(ggplot2) ## Read Library library(stringr) #Strings of all the attributes of one post post_with_attributes
